Updates on site issues 11 years ago

We've made good progress on delivering tweets in a more timely fashion; timelines have been up-to-date all day. We are also cleaning up the issue with missing tweets / deleted timelines. This should be fully resolved in the next 24 hours (and is fixed for most users currently).

Site latency has been the biggest problem today. The site is much slower than is acceptable and we are still working on this problem.

Additionally, for the past several hours, Facebook has not been updated with new tweets and we will push a fix for this as soon as possible.
