Update, 4:00 PM: Apple updated its system status page to reflect the ongoing iCloud outages as pictured above.

After receiving several reports from readers experiencing issues with accessing the App Store, iCloud, and other online Apple services, Apple has finally updated its system status page and confirmed outages for the iTunes Store, Mac App Store, and App Store. It also confirmed some users were experiencing issues with iCloud calendars. While Apple's status page shows outages between 9:40 a.m. and 11:50 a.m. 4:00 PM, many users continue to experience problems accessing services...

As highlighted by the collection of tweets below, many iOS users are still unable to access the App Store, iTunes, and iCloud services:

@9to5mac I've also been having issues with iCloud mail for the past hour as well.
